Short Description

The Neighborhood and Self-Help Center (NUSZufafabrik) is a nonprofit organization with its headquarters and administrative offices located at ufaFabrik in Berlin. The history of the neighborhood center is closely linked to ufaFabrik where various social groups have been developing their activities since 1979. Self-help groups, Peer-support groups, associations and initiatives have all been formed. Their guiding principles include promoting social change, encouraging people to develop themselves with their own initiative and practicing tolerance and acceptance for different lifestyles. For NUSZ It is important to support people so that they can shape their lives independently and responsibly.
